

PAST PERFECT |

Hello! I'm Perfect. Did you think there is nothing perfect? Well, I am. All my actions are complete, I have perfect results of my work. In fact, I have everything.

What exactly do I have? I have results – past participles. They are like adjectives, but about actions. For example, made in China*.

HAVE + Ved/V3

TO HAVE FOUGHT

HAVE

MEAN
COST

WHAT ABOUT THE PAST?

1 Ved/V2

THE RESULT
WAS THEN!!!

I had fought ocean beasts.

He had fought ocean beasts.

TIME IN PAST PERFECT

- ❖ by then/that time/17:00 yesterday
- ❖ that week
- ❖ always, never/ever before
- ❖ already, not yet

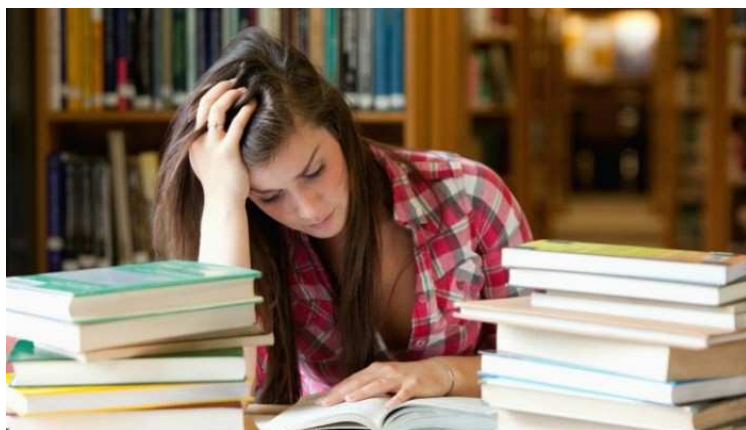

- ❖ started but not finished
- ❖ results that you could have again
- ❖ results in the period of time that hadn't finished
- ❖ experience

HE FAILED HIS TEST BECAUSE HE HADN'T STUDIED.

PAST PERFECT

No wonder it's run away again. This dog has always liked freedom.

We've read lots of books recently. And we've recently written some essays, too.

I've only just woken up!!!

We've visited 31 countries by now.