WRITING SKILL: Formal and Informal Writing

With formal writing (often to people we don't know), we use full sentences and special expressions:

Dear Mr. Smith, I am writing to apply for the job of... Please see my attached resume.

With informal writing (often to people we know well), we use shorter sentences and contracted forms. Sometimes we also leave words out.

Hi! I'm having a party. Want to come?

Unit 12: Formal email – Example

Dear Sir/Madam,

I would like to do your course in 'English with sport' this summer. I am interested in visiting Northern Ireland, and your school 'Emerald School of English' seems ideal for me. I have found a lot of the information I need on your website, but I still have some questions. I would be very grateful if you could answer them.

First of all, if I stayed for four weeks, how many teachers would I have? Are there any exams at the end of the course? Could you tell me if I will get a certificate from the school when I leave?

Concerning the sports, I am especially interested in horse riding. I see that I can do this every afternoon, but does the cost include everything? Do I need any of my own equipment? Also, is tennis available in the evening after 7 p.m.?

As I mentioned, I am very interested in coming to Belfast, and I would like to live with a local family. However, if I am not happy with the family, can I change accommodation?

I hope you can answer my questions.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,
Noor Ali
